

BREWER'S NOTES

WOP WOPS NZ PALE ALE

DATE: JULY 2024

Like all brewers, we love hops, and Karl, our resident Kiwi, has a thing for the NZ variety.

In March 2024, he popped over the ditch and headed south – waaay south – to Garston Hops, a place said to be the world's southernmost hop farm.

There a reason this beer is named Wop Wops.

While there, he tramped among the hop vines in his trusty jandals and hand-selected the hops for this beer.

Back in Melbourne, armed with this season's Motueka, Rakau, and NZ Cascade, he set about brewing this love letter to his homeland.

Wop Wops Pale Ale is full of the lip-smacking stone fruit flavours you expect from NZ hops and has a balanced bitterness that leads to a nicely dank finish. Chur Karl!
